THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the Richmond Whig.

THE QUESTION OF TREASON.

"Can a government," asks the New York Tribune, "which, after a long and arduous struggle, has put down an organized and formidable rebellion, proceed to try and punish its defeated adversaries as traitors?"

The Tribune answers its question by declaring that the doctrine generally held by American statesmen and publicists prior to 1860 will be found succinctly set forth by Daniel Webster in his address on laying the corner-stone of Bunker Hill Monument, June 17, 1825, wherein he says of the consequences of that combat:

"The battle of Bunker Hill was attended with the most important effects beyond its immediate result as a military engagement. It created at once a state of open, public war. There could now be no longer a question of proceeding against individuals as guilty of treason or rebellion. That fearful crisis was past. The appeal now lay to the sword; and the only question was whether the spirit and the resources of the people would hold out until the object should be accomplished."

"Bear in mind," proceeds the Tribune, "that our fathers had not even declared their independence on the 17th June, 1775, when they fought at Bunker Hill—nay, they had not definitely resolved on separation from the mother country. In the eye of British law—and of the law of nations for that matter—they were simply rebels, resisting the authority and the army of their legitimate king. Yet Mr. Webster holds that the naked fact that they resisted in battle array, under the command of their constituted local authorities, precluded any civil proceedings against them as 'individuals guilty of treason or rebellion.'"

In considering the question whether the guilt and penalty of treason can be incurred by participation in "an organized and formidable rebellion," our New York contemporary might have strengthened the point he is aiming to establish, to wit: the guiltlessness of treason by the South, by enquiring first whether there has been any rebellion at all. Upon this point it might have cited the following opinions, as weighty and pertinent as that of Mr. Webster on the point to which it is applied:

"We have repeatedly said, and we once more insist, that the great principle embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, is sound and just; and that if the slave States, the cotton States, or the Gulf States only, choose to form an independent nation, they have a moral right to do so!—N. Y. Tribune, March 2, 1861.

"If the cotton States shall become satisfied that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to secede may be a revolutionary one, but it exists nevertheless."

* * * * *

"We must ever resist the right of any State to remain in the Union and nullify or defy the laws thereof. To withdraw from the Union is quite another matter; whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in. We hope never to live in a republic whereof one section is pinned to another by bayonets."—Tribune, Nov. 9, 1860.

"If the cotton States unitedly and earnestly wish to withdraw peacefully from the Union, we think they should and would be allowed to do so. Any attempt to compel them by force to remain would be contrary to the principles enunciated in the immortal Declaration of Independence; contrary to the fundamental ideas on which human liberty is based."—Tribune, Nov. 26, 1860.

"If it (the Declaration of Independence) justified the secession from the British Empire of three million of colonists in 1776, we do not see why it should not justify the secession of five millions Southrons from the Union in 1861.—Tribune, Dec. 17, 1860.

"Whenever it shall be clear that the great body of the Southern people have become conclusively alienated from the Union, and anxious to escape from it, we will do our best to forward their views."—Tribune, Feb. 23, 1861.

ANDREW JOHNSON.—Andrew Johnson is a puzzle to his enemies. They cannot comprehend how he can look well, or feel well, after all that the Radicals have done for his destruction. A Radical correspondent—who was sneaking about the White House grounds, to pick up something no doubt—thus refers to him: "He issued from the lower regions of the White House unattended. Eschewing the hard gravel of the avenues, he took kindly to the turf. He inspected the new music stand opposite his window. He stopped to watch the base ball club playing down in the meadows; paused to look at two tumbling boys rolling on the grass, all white with pollen fuz. He came leisurely on, this man at the head of the nation; and when we met him face to face, at last our question was answered. Treasury people, the man over yonder does not look tired at all. Nor vanquished vetoes, nor impeachment committees, nor a belligerent Congress, nor a disgusted people, have been powerful enough to destroy this man's satisfaction in himself. He did not look burdened nor weary, nor discontented, nor sick. His step was strong, and confident, and slow; there seemed to be no pressure of public care, nor of official duty, behind it. A smile brightened the clogged lines of his face. Unharmonious and passionate, in its happier moments it is not an unkind face, nor one that 'it is easy to believe wholly untrue. And those who know him well declare that, though prejudiced and obstinate to the last degree, Andrew John is not dishonest. He was dressed like a gentleman of leisure, with a scrupulous nicety in itself sufficient to attract attention. To me his gaunt, grand, predecessor walked by his side. How different in his uncouth costume from this elegantly attired gentleman, gloved, caned, his iron-gray hair rolled smoothly under, walking placidly on the green grass under the trees."

GEN. SCHOFIELD'S LATE ORDER.

From the Richmond Dispatch.

"The following order speaks for itself. It is another proof that we have no rights which our conquerors are bound to respect. The record must be made up for the judgment of mankind now, and of posterity; and so we commit this order to print. It ought to have at least one good effect—namely, that of convincing the most obdurate pasivist that reconstruction upon the terms of the Sherman-Shellabarger acts is imperatively demanded by the circumstances in which we are placed."

From the Petersburg Index.

"Here perishes the last vestige of public freedom and individual right, and here in half a dozen paragraphs is laid prone before the arm that wields the sword the last semblance of republicanism which had been accorded our provisional government."

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1867.

ORDER FROM THE BUREAU.

"Gen. Brown, of the Freedmen's Bureau, has issued a circular directing the officers of the Bureau, in view of the hostility which may exist to the freedmen voting, to see that every freedman is instructed in his rights, and that he is registered and votes."

We published the above a day or two ago. We doubt seriously if there is any good ground, whatever, for the idea that there is hostility in Virginia to the freedmen voting. We have not heard, from any quarter, any such expression in North Carolina. It looks very much as if it were a flimsy excuse to make the Freedman's Bureau a political machine, in order to interfere in the elections. We regret this. The Bureau has done good, though sometimes incompetent and unfit agents have done harm. There is no need of this species of intermeddling in the elections. It is no part of the duty of an institution, protective and eleemosynary, so to interfere. The Bureau, as the legal guardian of the colored race, might with propriety instruct the blacks in their rights and duties—might teach them that they are freemen and that, as such, under the law, it is their right and duty both to register and to vote—it might warn all persons against any attempts to prevent, in any way, the colored people from doing so. This would be right. But when the Bureau undertakes "to see that every freedman registers and votes," it assumes a prerogative over the freedom of the freedmen which it has no authority to claim or exercise.

The freedmen are free, they ought to be informed of their duty and rights, but they should be then left untrammelled to do as they please. It is a fair presumption that the government did not intend to put such political power into the hands of men so prone to use it for the benefit of a particular party. For it is equally fair to presume that there is just about enough of human nature in Bureau agents that, when they undertake to see that the colored voters do register and vote, they will be equally mindful to tell them who to vote for. We insist upon it that, in these matters, the colored voter should be left as free to make his own choice, as the white voter is.

"Lieutenant Colonel Gay, commanding the post at Columbus, Miss., has issued an order which requires the immediate departure from the city of all freedmen who have no visible means of support. Those disobeying the order will be promptly arrested and dealt with severely."—Exchange.

The citizens of Columbus, no doubt, thank Col. Gay for his timely order. The condition of the Southern people, both white and black, requires that all persons should be at work in some profitable employment. There is absolutely no room for idleness. Starvation must be its legitimate end. Our lands are profitless for the want of labor, yet hundreds of stout, able-bodied men and women lounge upon the streets of our cities and towns, indolent and useless to themselves and to others,—the fit subjects of vagrancy and crime. The corporate authorities should possess the power to force such men to labor. Such discipline in the towns would soon force them into the country, and the Bureau officers do a good service to the blacks and the country when they force them out to work. The same discipline should be applied to able-bodied vagrant white men.—The working, thrifty whites and blacks, cannot afford to be taxed to feed, in jail or on the streets, lazy loungers.

CLOVER.—The Yorkville Enquirer, alluding to our recent article on Clover in the Capitol square, congratulated us that Raleigh was "in clover." We are glad to see that there are many evidences of the fact in its literal sense, however far we may be from the Enquirer's metaphorical inference. We observe a number of lots yielding a most luxuriant growth, proving beyond question how successfully it may be cultivated in this section. Mr. W. H. Crow has just cut the first crop off his lot in the vicinity of the "old Baptist grove," and it is almost equal to that produced in the famous Shenandoah Valley. Dr. F. J. Haywood has been equally successful in the cultivation of lucerne. A portion of his crop, which makes a very large yield, has already been cut.

BROWNLOW has issued an address to the public, which is in character with the vile old miscreant, and, therefore, simply infamous. The Petersburg Express gives the following synopsis of it:

"He denounces "that prince of swindlers, liars, and scoundrels, John Baxter," and goes on to speak of the "gang of lick-spittles" who revolve around him, and then asks questions of the most insulting kind, concerning the mother, wife, sisters, brothers and other relatives of his opponent—insinuating against them every crime known to the decalogue and the criminal law."

We have not seen this document. The Raleigh Standard has, and says "it is a treat" to read it!!

THE MUNICIPAL elections take place in Washington City to-day. The Intelligencer is somewhat hopeful of the result, notwithstanding the neglect of so many whites to register, and the frauds that have been perpetrated through the connivance of the Registrars.

MORE LIGHT.—The Hon. J. F. Farnsworth, of Illinois, is booked, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, for a missionary tour in this State. He will address the people at Concord, Salisbury, Charlotte, and other places in the West.

AGRICULTURE AND MINING.

One of the most prominent among the many inducements that conspire to stimulate the full development of our agricultural capabilities, is to be found in connection with the mining resources of the State.—Under the new system of labor, and with our national difficulties composed, we regard it as certain that an extensive immigration will pour into our borders. A large class of this will be engaged in the various branches of mining industry. Populations of this character are non-producers of food. They are dependent upon the products of the contiguous soil for sustenance; and hence arises the necessity for a home market, which, as far as it goes, is equally as important as a foreign.

Apropos to the recent excellent letter from Prof. Kerr, on the resources of the Deep River region: If cities have sprung up elsewhere, under the influence of coal development and trade, with a suddenness that reminds one of the fable in the Arabian Nights' entertainments, where palaces were built in a single night, why may we not expect, under the influence of immigration and improvements, to see the borders of Deep River some day inhabited by a dense population and adorned with flourishing towns? The rapidity with which these have sprung into existence in the mining districts of Pennsylvania may be instanced in the cases, among others, of Pottsville, Carbondale, and Honesdale. In 1828, there was but one building on the site of Carbondale, and that a log tenement, and Pottsville, now a city containing a population of 20,000 or 25,000 inhabitants, received its impetus at even a later period.

In Pennsylvania, both soil and climate are more adverse to such development than in North Carolina. The canals in that State, for example, are frozen up for four months in the year. Navigation in this State is never so obstructed. The coal regions of Pennsylvania are sterile and agriculturally unproductive, while Deep River, and the adjacent country, with the aid of fertilizers, may be made a very Nile. Its products can be quadrupled, and will find a home market on the spot which yields them.

When all the inviting fields of mining and manufacturing industry which North Carolina presents, shall have been occupied, Agriculture, as an inevitable result, will also have attained its fullest scope and development; for to it, at last, all the great departments of labor come to serve as handmaids.

Nothing but a blind, ruthless, vindictive political policy can prevent North Carolina from becoming one of the greatest industrial States in the Union. If the counsels of confiscation, disfranchisement and oppression prevail, that will become a wilderness, which, under generous and enlightened auspices, may be made a very garden of enterprise and prosperity.

"If the Sentinel, in its expose of the Attorney General's opinion is correct, in regard to Magistrates, its powers of conception are more acute than ours. It says they are not distranchised."—Henderson Index.

Really, the Index's powers of "seeing what is not to be seen" are very "acute." The Sentinel has never said or intimated that Magistrates are not distranchised. Our impression always has been that they are.—The question, however, is left undecided in Mr. Stanbery's opinion. The abstracts, when published, will make the matter clear.

Horace Greeley publishes another letter in rebuff of the attacks made upon him for the best act of his life;—we mean his agency in procuring the bail for Mr. Davis. He has been fiercely assailed, but is in no wise penitent. On the contrary he says:

"I felt confident that the bail of Mr. Davis in part by Northern republicans would exert a pacifying, reconciling influence at the South, and was willing to incur some personal obloquy to this end; but I already realize that it has done far more good than I anticipated. From every part of the South but Texas, I have already trustworthy assurances that it has been generally hailed as an overture to conciliation—an earnest of Northern good-will and kindness.

Those who are waiting for some defence, explanation, or apology from me, will wait forever. My action in the premises has done more good than I expected, and at less personal cost. I may never again have an opportunity to do so beneficent an act; but, should I have, I shall certainly be encouraged by this experience to improve the opportunity."

From which it appears that Greeley is thus far standing to his guns very bravely. In the following he defends his action on still stronger grounds:

* * "It did not, and does not, seem to me desirable to brand the crime of treason—of felony—on the brows of these three or four millions of our countrymen (in the person of Mr. Davis.) Nay, it did not seem wise or well to try thus to brand them, whether the attempt was or was not likely to be crowned with success." There may be honest difference on this point to-day; but who can believe that there will be any such difference five years hence?"

Rumors of treasure being found have for several days been afloat, and to-day assume the semblance of truthful reality. It appears that while some negro men were digging a well on Monday last on a lot in the upper part of the city, belonging to the estate of Joseph Sierra, deceased, they encountered a brick vault, and breaking through it found a chest with the key in it. Attached to a ring on the door of the chest by a wire was a brass plate so marked as to indicate the amount of the special deposit. This was copied by one of the negroes who participated in unearthing the chest, and has been dealt untairly with by his comrades. His figures are almost in hieroglyphics, but parties who have examined them say that the sum is $340,000. There are many conflicting statements among negroes who are supposed to know of the affair, and the whole thing may be much exaggerated, but some treasure certainly has been found, and four of the negroes supposed to have control of it are nowhere to be found. As the matter has assumed such interest in the community, we shall endeavor to obtain a detailed account of it. The concealment must date back to the Spanish occupation.—Pensacola Observer.

An unknown individual, who claimed to be a United States Marshal under the orders of General Pope, addressed a public meeting in Tallapoosa, Ala., on the 20th ult, in the most obscene and insulting language, cursing and defying the white citizens present, and inciting the negroes in a most outrageous manner. No riot occurred, however, and the individual rode away from the town with the mane and tail of his horse shorn close.

STATE NEWS.

—A meeting of the Stockholders of the Williamston and Tarboro' Railroad was held at the former place, a few days since. Messrs. J. R. Stubbs, H. D. Robeson, J. S. Staton, J. E. Moore, J. D. Biggs, D. W. Bagley and Asa Biggs were chosen Directors. A meeting, for the election of President, and other officers, will be held on the 7th. The salary of the President has been fixed at $3,000. The indications are that the Road will be constructed at once.

—Edgecombe County Court has determined that the debt of the county shall be paid in three years. The tax of the last year has been increased 25 per cent. for the purpose.

—Mr. Jacob Loeb, of the firm of Jas. Anderson & Co., of Wilmington, has received the appointment of French Vice-Consul.

—Capt. Jno. Maffitt, formerly Commander of the Confederate Steamer Florida, has arrived in Wilmington.

—The Editor of the Southerner, at Tarboro', was shown, last week, the first corn tassel of the season. He says:

"It is but seldom that the 26th. of May will show this evidence of agricultural advance and culture, but as usual Edgecombe is ahead. Can any of our farming friends show an equal sign?"

—A bold robbery was perpetrated in Tarboro last week. The Southerner says:

"It is the custom of the Express Agent at this place, to send the money packages from the office in town to the Depot, under the charge of Mr. G. B. Lipscombe, who transfers them immediately to the care of Capt. R. A. Watson. A small tin box is used for this purpose, which, through carelessness, was without a lock.

On the morning in question Mr. L. took charge of this box containing eight packages of money, and not finding Capt. Watson at the Depot, placed it in the office of the Ticket Agent, where there were three other persons, besides the Agent.

After calling his attention to the box he went in search of Capt. W, and being absent but a few minutes, returned finding the office closed and the Agent engaged in some other business.

The office being opened, the box was examined and it was found that five packages were missing, containing about eight hundred dollars."

—Our cotemporary, the Warrenton Courier, makes a singular mistake in announcing the order of the County Court, levying the County taxes for the present year in Warren. It says it was "Ordered, that a Tax of 150 per cent be levied upon all subjects of taxation, for State and County purposes, in order to raise the sum of six thousand dollars."

Of course every reader will see the mistake. At the same time, it was ordered that the Poor House of the County be discontinued.

—Asheville was visited by a very severe storm of wind, rain and hail last week. The News says:

"It lasted about two hours, but during that short time it deluged the gardens, and in some instances almost entirely washed the growing plants away, leaving the ground perfectly bare. Bridges, fences and culverts yielded to its force and fury, and were demolished. Corn, planted on the low grounds, will have to be replanted. A waggoner, in attempting to cross Beaver Dam, was compelled to cut his mules clear of the wagon to save them from being drowned.

From all we can learn the storm extended only about four miles in each direction from this place, but we fear that it has done immense damage in that space."

For the Sentinel.

BISHOP ATKINSON—INCREASED EPISCOPAL SERVICE.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—In reading the extracts from the address of Bishop Atkinson, recently made to the Convention at Wilmington, published in the Sentinel, on Friday last, the points suggested by him as to the necessity for increased Episcopal service, arising mainly from the continued feeble health of the Bishop, led me to cast about to see if the case could not be relieved, so that the Diocese might not find it necessary to embarrass itself, nor yet dispense with the services of its able and beloved Bishop.

He suggests three modes by which Episcopal services might be secured: First, the division of the Diocese; but he suggests a constitutional difficulty, and I would add, so far from relieving the Diocese from pecuniary embarrassment, it might very materially increase it. Secondly, the election of an Assistant Bishop. This would certainly effect the object, but the opinion seems to be general, that at present, and it may be for several years to come, the additional pecuniary burden could not well be borne.—Thirdly, that painful as it might be to him and to the Church, he nevertheless would resign and give place to one younger and more able to perform the task. To this, we apprehend, there would be but one voice.—Far better, at once, adopt the second and shoulder manfully the expense.

If, however, this cannot be done, and in the hope of the recuperation of the Bishop, and in order to effect it, could not something be gained by the adoption of the following plan: First, let the Episcopal residence be changed to a more central and more healthy portion of the State, at some point on the N. C. Railroad. The Diocese should bear any necessary expense, which might be incurred in this arrangement. Secondly, let the Bishop arrange his plan of visitations so as to economize his strength, thus: Let the Diocese be divided by him into nine Districts, embracing as nearly as possible an equal number of Churches and places of preaching, to be served by him during the year one month each, giving him some days relief at home after the appointments for each District. Then let the nine Districts be divided into three equal parts, giving him one entire month of rest between the visitations of each of the parts. This would be an admirable division of the labor, at the same time bringing him home more frequently, and relieving him from the fatiguing exposure and labor of a continuous string of appointments, which would be too exhausting even for a man of robust health. Care should also be taken to arrange all his appointments in the East during winter and spring, and all West of a given line in summer and fall. By this arrangement, his official labors in the Diocese would be performed in nine months of the year, giving him one month of entire rest after the labors of each three.

These suggestions are thrown out in the hope and belief that, if carefully arranged and carried out, they would protract the life and usefulness of a highly valuable servant of the Church.

RAVENSCROFT.

Governor Jenkins urges the people of Georgia to raise corn and let cotton alone.

HOW THE FREEDMEN ARE TO GET LANDS.

We hope some of the freedmen of the County will read what we have said below for the benefit of that part of our population. We say to them in all candor and sincerity, that it is folly in the extreme for them to expect, from a confiscation by the Government, to get the lands of their white neighbors, and that the only way to get land is to acquire it by purchase, and as the fruits of their own thrift, industry and economy. Those of them who may rely upon their own exertions, and their own prudence, may live to find themselves and their families comfortable and independent, while those who may rely upon the plunder of others, will find themselves as poor as they will deserve to be. Freedmen of Warren, if you will follow our advice, you, or at least many of you, will have a small tract of land and a home. You will have your little gardens with vegetables, fruits and flowers. You will find your little orchards blooming around you. You will have your small stock of cattle, horses, and sheep. You will behold your corn-fields growing green beneath the dews of heaven, and the showers and the sun shine. Follow our advice, and you will have an humble but comfortable and happy home for yourselves and your families, whether you shall sit by your winter fireside, or breathe the delightful atmosphere of the spring or the summer, beneath the shade of your own beautiful oaks; and you will be able to dispense to your friends a simple but warm-hearted hospitality. You will feel that your homestead has not been acquired by the plunder of others, but is the fruit of your own perseverance, economy, and virtue, and you will therefore prize it more highly; and your descendants, after you shall have gone down to the grave, will look upon it as a memorial of your honesty and worth, will be induced to take care of it, and will be encouraged to follow your excellent example. There is a very heavy amount of debt now due in North Carolina and the South generally. In the course of a few years a large portion of land must be thrown into the market, and will probably not sell at very high prices. If you will be steady, temperate and industrious, and take care of so much of your wages as necessity will not require you to spend, you will be able in a few years to buy small freeholds, have happy homes, and live in independence and comfort. Those who tell you to rely on confiscation deceive you, and are enemies of both races. The cause of confiscation is getting to be more and more odious every Warrenton Courier.

The New York Journal of Commerce chronicles a hopeful sign of improvement in the general interests of the country. It says:

"It is found in the altered tone of feeling among those prominent business men who have heretofore acted with the extremists of the dominant party. We notice unmistakable signs within a few days that the eyes of some of these gentlemen are open to the probable future in case the political radicals are longer entrusted with the management of public affairs; and the costly tuition under which so many have recently been brought is evidently producing its legitimate effect. This may lead to nothing beyond a temporary restraint upon those measures from which the country is now suffering, but as the reaction must come at last, we see no reason why it may not have begun now, not to be arrested until peace is restored to all parts of our land, and trade is released from the oppressive load under which it is now struggling."

LARGE INCOMES IN NEW YORK CITY.—William B. Astor returns an income of $681,210; Peter Lorillard, the tobacconist, is put down at $159,200; Augustus Belmont, $106,091; Ogden Haggerty, $191,581; James Brown, $248,725; C. F. Dambmann, $106,657; A. R. Eno, $159,081; Horace Gray, $100,329; Elias S. Higgins, $347,877; Peter Goelet, $167,155; B. H. Hutton, $183,897; Stuart Brown, $136,425; Paran Stevens, $142,985; Eugene Kelly, $113,783; T. D. Wolfe, $103,646; John Watson, $118,719; Edward Matthews, $100,000; W. M. Vermilye, $128,107; W. R. Vermilye, $123,216; D. Groesback, $123,793.

A couple of New Lebanon Shakers got married recently, in open violation of all law and order as propounded by that sect. Both the parties were young and had carried on a correspondence for some time, although they had never spoken to one another. The correspondence was discovered, however, and the young man was expelled, whereupon the young lady fled, rejoined her true love, and they were married according to the rites of the outer world. Considerable indignation and excitement exist in consequence among the "family."

The New England Anti-Slavery Society held their anniversary meeting at Boston on Friday, when the usual radical resolutions were adopted, one setting forth that Davis' release proves the South still triumphant.—Wendell Phillips was the principal speaker. His points mainly referred to Horace Greeley, the Union League and the nomination of Grant for the Presidency.

Dr. Livingstone, it seems, has not been given up yet by his friends. At a recent meeting of the Geographical Society in London, Sir Roderick Murchison expressed the hope that Dr. Livingstone was alive, and that he would return in triumph to receive the congratulations of the Society.

THE JAPANESE COMMISSIONERS.—A correspondent states that it is understood that the Japanese Commissioners have purchased the ex-rebel iron clad ram Stonewall, now at the navy-yard in this city. They are to take with her her present armament, our Government putting her in sea going condition. Price, $400,000.—National Intelligencer.

COMPENSATION FOR SLAVES.—The following is one of the new articles of the Maryland Bill of Rights:

"Article 24. That slavery shall not be re-established in this State, but having been abolished under the policy and authority of the United States, compensation in consideration thereof is due from the United States."

We learn from undoubted sources that the Fenians are really determined to make another raid upon Canada. We are unable, from the crowded state of our columns, to give the particulars to-day, but our neighbors over the border may rest assured that they had better get their shot guns in order and keep their powder dry.—World.

The London tailors are now sending to this country, with their coats, little glass bottles, with pins attached, to hold the flowers, which would otherwise be stuck in the button-hole. By the use of these bottles filled with water, of course the flowers can be kept fresh.

A HOME FOR JEFF. DAVIS IN THE SOUTH. There is a scheme on foot for raising a fund for the purchase of a home in the South for Jefferson Davis, the subscriptions to be general all over the South; but the selection of the house to be left to Mr. Davis himself.—Herald.

From Hayti via Havana we learn that the successful revolutionist Salnave has resolved on a Provisional Government, and in the meantime has declared himself Dictator. He has sent vessels to Curacoa with offers to Soulouque—the former negro Emperor of Hayti—to return and assume the reins of government.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Ætna Life Insurance Company.

THE ÆTNA LIFE PRESENTS THE MOST signal example of American progress and accumulative energy. Every branch and department of the institution appears to be replete with the most active vitality and growth, and the rapidity of its advancement is so great that it promises to eclipse all its competitors and to become, if it is not already, the first Life Insurance Company of America.

How nearly these presages are already accomplished and how certain they are of complete and speedy fulfilment, may be gathered from the following facts. In 1861 it issued 580 policies, the premiums amounting to but $79,583.67. Since that period its growth has been something altogether unprecedented in the history of Life Insurance, its business having been annually doubled, tripled, and, on one occasion, almost quadrupled, till it has culminated in the yearly issue of over fourteen thousand policies, insuring over forty million dollars, at the same time that it was the recipient of the annual revenue of over Three and a Half Millions of Dollars.

It accordingly appears that the Ætna Life insured last year, with one exception, the largest number of persons of any Company in the United States, and even as to amount insured it is surpassed by only two Companies, and it is probable that it would not have been excelled by them in this respect, if it were not deemed incompatible with its permanent interests to grant a single policy for a sum exceeding ten thousand dollars; for, although so remarkably progressive, the Ætna's course has always been equally prudent, safe and conservative. But certainly in its increase of business in 1866 over that of 1865, including the issue of policies, amount insured, and total income, when its position and that of other Companies at the commencement of last year are duly considered, it must be regarded, beyond comparison, as the most successful of all. The present year witnesses no abatement of this youthful vigor and growth. On the contrary, we learn that the Company's increase of business in 1867 is nearly double that of the corresponding months of 1866. The realization of the avowed purpose of the management of the Ætna Life to make their Company the first, largest and best in the Union, appears therefore to have become a part of the "manifest destiny of the nation."

It must be admitted that there is something truly inspiring in the contemplation of the noble achievements of this Company; for although the material progress it has made is measurable by the actuary, the good it has done and the good it is yet destined to accomplish transcend the calculation of all but Omniscience. The battle's victory, the triumph of material art and science are less glorious than the conquests of genuine philanthropy, of which Life Insurance is perhaps the most perfect emanation. In all countries and in all times the widow and orphan have been regarded as special objects of solicitude and bounty by the good and great, and even in the dark ages, the dauntless and true knight added a crowning lustre to his fame by affording them relief and protection. Yet never until now—never until the complete establishment of Life Insurance, have the widow, orphan, and such dependants been justly, sufficiently, liberally and honorably provided for, and a Company like the Ætna Life, that takes the lead in this most beneficent work, is therefore deserving of all honor, praise and encouragement.

There is yet one feature peculiar to the Ætna Life entitled to especial commendation and that is its economy. In this regard, notwithstanding its activity, youth, growth, and amount of new business, it presents a remarkable exception, and the skill and care of its President, E. A. Bulkeley, Esq.; and its zealous and able Secretary, T. O. Enders, Esq., are manifested in the success which has attended their efforts to unite in their management the qualities of extraordinary proficiency and strict economy. The ratio of the Ætna's expenses to premium and total income is lower than that of the Mutual Life, its Titanic rival, and, under the latter heading, less than that of the Connecticut Mutual, notwithstanding the advantages possessed by these companies in their great accumulation of many years' business; but, although the ratio of the Ætna's disbursements is now considerably below the general average, it might have been reduced below that of any but for its generous, and in many instances, most laudable practice of paying claims before maturity. It keeps no orphan or widow waiting for her insurance money, even when not yet legally payable. It consults the spirit and design of the institution rather than the policy of preparing materials for an attractive exhibit. This genial benevolence and liberal dealing render the company a great favorite with the public.

Similar commendation might be justly extended to its other popular features and reforms, including its non-forfeiture policies, its helpful credit given during the continuance of policy, its equitable division of all the profits among the insured, except the six per cent. on the stock capital, and its excellent and productive dividend system. The last feature has afforded great satisfaction to its members, for its dividend which "is paid two years from date of policy and annually thereafter on the amount of premium," has this year, and for several years past, amounted to 50 per cent., and is paid promptly in the same year it is declared in cash on cash policies, or applied to the credit of those who have received credit.—We should, however, exceed the space to which we are restricted, if we were to enumerate the special advantages enjoyed by the members of the Ætna Life, who now number over thirty thousand, and who seem to fully appreciate their privileges, for they are the company's voluntary and in many instances most efficient agents, and assist in spreading its benefits with an earnestness and cordiality which speak well for their benevolence and volumes for the institution itself.

The Ætna Life is one of our soundest and safest Life corporations. It has over five million dollars securely invested, and a million dollars surplus above all liabilities, including the full value of all its existing policies, from every point of view this great Company displays features of special merit and unusual excellence; and if the prediction that its issue of policies during this year will amount to twenty-two thousand and its receipts to seven million dollars, should be fulfilled, it will get no more than its due—no more than the best friends of Life Insurance and of humanity (for they are identical) sincerely trust it will obtain and employ, as hitherto, to the advancement and elevation of society and eventually to the grateful relief and honorable maintenance of the widows and orphans of the provident and true hearted.

GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT,

—IN AID OF THE—

SOUTHERN ORPHAN ASSOCIATION,

(Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867,)

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE,

BALTIMORE,

JUNE 17th. 1867.

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THEIR JOINED ADDRESS FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC.

The officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

GRAND PRESENTATION CONCERT

OF ALL WHO DESIRE TO SEE THE

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

Enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

It is the design of this Association to erect a for the Orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Va. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in the favorable response to this appeal by a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities, is of such an arduous nature that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the everywhere an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible struggle which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for

FUTURE USEFULNESS

TO SOCIETY AT LARGE.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the GRAND

PRESENTATION MUSICAL CONCERT

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Agricultural implements and Mechanics' tools: Mitchell, Allen & Co., No. 22 Pollok St., Newbern.

See the announcement of the opening of Buffalo Springs. This watering-place has always enjoyed a good reputation, and attractive inducements are presented during the approaching season.

W. H. Crow, General Agent, again presents, in a new, attractive and perfectly reliable form, the advantages of life insurance,—and especially in the great Company for which he is acting.

The Fall term of the Select Boarding and Day School of the Misses Nash and Miss Kolloch, Hillsboro', will commence on the 26th. of July. The Spring term closes on the 27th. of June, at which time a concert will be given under the direction of the accomplished pianist and composer, Prof. Pape. The school kept by these estimable ladies is deservedly one of the most popular in the State.

Fish! Fish!—B. P. Williamson & Co.

GEN. SICKLES, Commanding General of District No. 2, arrived in this city yesterday evening by the Eastern train from Goldsboro'. He was met at the depot by Col. Bomford and Gen. Miles, companies of infantry and cavalry, and a band of music, and escorted to the residence of Gov. Worth. Upon ascertaining the precise time when President Johnson would be here, Gov. Worth immediately wrote to Gen. Sickles, inviting him to meet the President here, and tendering him the hospitalities of his house during his stay. Upon which the General promptly accepted the invitation.

Several of the staff, viz: Cols. Page and Moore, Maj. Roy and Capt. Prince, accompanied the General and are at the Yarbrough House.

THE EXECUTIVE MANSION.—We are gratified to state, as a well founded rumor, that Gen. Sickles has issued an order, requiring the evacuation of the Executive Mansion by the military and its delivery into the keeping of Gov. Worth.—The constant depredations upon the premises of the Mansion have been so serious, in spite of the efforts of Col. Bomford to prevent them, as to make it impossible to repair them, except at great expense.

THE CITY is rapidly filling up with strangers, who have come to see the President and to attend the Federal Court. We notice a number of distinguished gentlemen at the Yarborough. Chief Justice Chase, who was expected, has not arrived.

THE DINNER AT THE YARBOROUGH.—Mr. Blair will issue tickets to the grand dinner in honor of the President, to-morrow, at $5 each. This cannot be deemed an exorbitant price, in view of the completeness of his arrangements. We have no doubt the dinner will be every way creditable to Mr. Blair. Enough said.

UNIVERSITY.—We are glad to learn that the Legislative Committee to investigate the affairs of the University will meet during the week. Gov. Clark and Col. Ed. Hall are in the City, en route for Chapel Hill.

The remains of Alexander McKnight, Esq., of Franklin County, who died a few days ago, were brought to this city by his friend and relative, C. B. Harrison, Esq., and, after funeral services at the Episcopal Church, were interred in the City cemetery.

THE PRESENT WEEK.—President Johnson will arrive in this City this afternoon, by the Northern train. The exercises at the City Cemetery will commence at 11 o'clock, A. M., to-morrow. There are already indications that the town will be filled with visitors on the interesting occasion.

The Circuit Court of the United States commences its session in this City, to-day.

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of North Carolina will hold its nineteenth Annual Convocation in Wilmington, to-morrow.

The semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Dental Association meets at High Point on Wednesday.

This is Commencement week at the University.

The examination of the pupils of Warrenton Female College takes place to-morrow and next day.

The Executive Committee of the Radical party in this State meets in this City on Wednesday.

SUPREME COURT.—This tribunal meets in this City on Monday next.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Richard Freeman, colored, charged with breaking into the house of Geo. W. Mordecai, Esq., and stealing therefrom a valuable lot of ladies' wearing apparel, was returned to the Superior Court Chief of Police Thompson found in the possession of the accused ten of the dresses stolen. There are other articles yet missing.

George Slaughter, colored, arrested for a violation of General Order No 10, Par. 12, was lodged in the Guard House and reported to the military.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The annual Concert and Exhibition of the scholars of the Raleigh Baptist Sabbath School took place at the Church on Thursday night. Although it was quite cloudy, the body of the Church was filled, and there were quite a number of persons in the galleries, waiting for the coming of the young folks. At half past eight o'clock the infant class made their appearance on the stage, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dodd, and J. M. Betts, teachers in that department. After prayer by Mr. T. M. Hughes, they went through an interesting programme.

Where all did so well, it would seem invidious to discriminate, but we must mention Master Jimmie Lumley, who delivered two speeches in a very creditable manner. The singing by this class was first-rate, and reflects great credit on their faithful teacher, Mrs. Dodd, to whose untiring zeal and energy is due the prosperous condition of this department of the Sunday School.

The audience having, on previous occasions, witnessed the exercises of the pupils in the school, expected a rich treat, and notwithstanding the long established high character of the Superintendent, W. J. Palmer, Esq., as a teacher of music, and instructor of youth, and his peculiar fitness for such displays, they were most agreeably surprised at the wonderful progress made by the young folks, since their last anniversary. The singing was most excellent, the pieces selected very appropriate and the effect produced on the mind of the attentive listeners was most salutary and impressive.

The introductory address, by Thos. Harris, a son of our townsman, E. E. Harris, was extremely felicitous. His declamation was earnest and commanding; his soft, clear, and distinct enunciation made the subject of his address, which was most happily conceived, deeply affecting, and caused a number to predict that he would become a distinguished pulpit orator if his life was spared. This youth should be encouraged. He is already a baptised believer in Christ, and has, by his piety and devotion, gained the affection and confidence of the church.

The appeal to teachers, by Miss Vic. Womble, a daughter of Jordan Womble, Jr., was most admirable, in matter and delivery.

"Whining," by Moses Amis, was a good thing, well suited to the character of some of the listeners, and caused general amusement.

Little Fannie Bevers acquitted herself very well and made a fine impression. So did Charlie Betts.

The dialogue, "The Conflict," was the best delivered and deserves special notice, but the length of this article forbids more than a passing allusion. Ben King, who represented Wm. Thoughtful, is a trump. He has entire control of his voice, which is well modulated, and perfect confidence.—This dialogue was worth five times the price of admission.

All performed their parts well, and as for Zac. Broughton, who made the closing speech, he cannot be excelled in matter or manner—and always elicits loud and prolonged applause, which, notwithstanding the efforts of Mr. Palmer to repress, was frequently indulged in during the exercises.

Two hours passed away swiftly and pleasantly, and all returned home gratified, and, as we trust, benefitted.

There were many absent, owing to the indications of rain, who would doubtless be glad to unite with those who were so fortunate as to be present in asking Mr. Palmer to repeat the exercises.

PIC-NIC OF THE PRESBYTERIAN SABBATH SCHOOL.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The annual Pic-Nic of this School came off on Friday. Two car loads of children, teachers, preachers and other friends, left the city at 7 A. M., on the R. & G. R. R., for Huntsville. They reached there in time, and rendezvoused on the plantation of Peyton Dunn, Esq. It took but a few moments for the crowd to scatter in various directions; some to the ponds, fishing, some to play ball and other amusements. The day passed off delightfully. All seemed happy.

A feast of good things was ready at noon, and little fingers and jaws told plainly that the arrangement was fully appreciated.

The weather was unusually fine, cool and delightful.

In good time, the party returned to the city, say about 6 P. M.

Arriving at the Old Depot, the venerable Dr. Lacy gathered the company around him, and reminded them that they had had a good time, and that thanks were due to God. He offered prayer, and the doxology was sung, the benediction pronounced, and the happy company separated, each to his home, to hope for next May.

All connected with the Railroad were very kind and accommodating to the little folks.

JUDICIAL DECISION.

NEW YORK, June 1.

Judge Bernard recently rendered a decision holding that the provisions of the State statute of 1862, which gives the State Courts power to enforce liens against ships and vessels, are in contravention to the Constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress, which vest the power to enforce and maintain such claims exclusively in the United States Courts of Admiralty.

This decision overturns a long settled course of proceedings in the State Courts, to enforce claims by seizing and subjecting vessels to sale, without the long delays attending the action at law against the owners or agents.

THE PRESIDENT AT RICHMOND.

The President has arrived from Washington. He was accompanied by Secretary Seward, Postmaster General Randall, Col. Wm. G. Moore, of the President's Staff, Surgeon Basil Norris, of U. S. Army, Col. J. R. O'Beirne, Col. A. H. Seward U. S. Army, Wm. J. Mitchell, E. L. Cushaw, Geo. Mattingly, Agent of the Potomac Steamboat, and Gen. R. O. Tyler. The last named is the Chief Quartermaster of the Second Military District, detailed by Gen. Sickles to act as one of the escort.

On his reaching Fredericksburg, on Saturday night at half past 11 o'clock, a number of persons of the vicinity gathered at the station and greeted the President with cheers, and called for a speech. But he merely thanked them for the manifestation of their respect, and shook hands with some of them at parting.

At Ashland, at 2 o'clock A. M., he was met by about twenty persons, one of whom extended to the President a cordial welcome in their name, remarking that they were not far from the birthplace of Henry Clay, and which neighborhood Patrick Henry also rendered historic

The President, in response to this informal address, said: "Gentlemen, accept my thanks for this compliment."

The train arrived at Richmond at 3 o'clock, A. M. The President was met at the Station by Mr. McFarland, President of the City Council, and several members of that body, Mayor Mayo and Ex-Mayors Sanders and Sturdivant, who extended to him a cordial welcome, and invited him to accept the hospitality of the City of Richmond.—The intercourse was rather informal, but pleasant. The hacks in waiting conveyed the party to the Spotswood Hotel, where they were accommodated with the best apartments. The President's chamber are those occupied by Jefferson Davis, and subsequently by Gen. Grant.

This morning the President and Secretary Seward, accompanied by a committee of the city authorities, attended service at St. Paul's Church, where Rev. Dr. Minnegerode officiated. After returning to the Spotswood Hotel, the President received a number of visitors, including a few ladies.

The President this afternoon dined with the Mayor and council at the Hotel.

Many of the citizens, not being aware that the party came to Richmond early this morning, congregated at the Rail Road station this afternoon to witness their coming.—A report having been in circulation that they would then arrive.

The President and party will leave between 3 and 4 o'clock to-morrow morning for Raleigh.

The Radical press, particularly the Washington Star, make merry over the reported loss by Mr. Davis of funds deposited with Frazier, Trenholm & Co. Not a word of truth in it, but even if so, these gentlemen need not imagine that the object of their malice will ever be allowed to suffer want so long as a boll of cotton or grain of wheat grows in the South.—Petersburg Index.

They are enjoying a sensation in Liverpool, where a youth of seventeen, disguised as a young lady, has, by the connivance of the lady principal teacher, been residing for a year past in a fashionable girl's boarding school, patronized exclusively by the aristocracy.

The Red Strings of Montgomery county, Va., and the region adjacent, had a tremendous meeting in Christianburg on Monday, the 18th, where a number of insolent speeches were made by white and black negroes.

The resolve introduced in the Massachusetts Legislature providing for an amendment of the State Constitution, relative to repealing the reading and writing qualifications for voters, has been adversely reported on. Massachusetts is not ready for universal suffrage at home.

An effort is now being made to induce the President to pardon Capt. Duncan, who will be remembered as the Commissary at Andersonville. This man was convicted by a Military Commission of murder and manslaughter, and sentenced to fourteen years in the Penitentiary.

The Japanese embassy is distressingly reticent. No one can find out its object in visiting the United States; but, we suspect, it is to find out how we "do things." Some say the Commissioners were sent to study our financial system—how to escape it, probably.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them t at they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THROAT, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season

From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FORMER ONE, and they hope to see a renewal of the social re-unions which, in former years lent such a charm to those mountain retreats.

Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GORDEN Depot. Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1867.

TO MY MOTHER.

The following lines are touchingly beautiful.—We have seen nothing of late that has so moved our sympathy. The man who can write such poetry, who has such thoughts, cannot be utterly depraved. The curse of intemperance, with its attending downward influence, has here done its work, and a spirit noble and generous, that might and should be the pride and ornament of the social circle, is now the degraded convict in the walls of a penitentiary. How will that fond mother's heart bleed, if she shall hear of her darling boy, the inmate of a prison, in a foreign land?—Biblical Recorder.

I've wander'd far from thee, mother,
Far from my happy home;
I've left the land that gave me birth,
In other climes to roam;
And time, since then, has roll'd its years
And mark'd them on my brow;
Yet, I have often thought of thee—
I'm thinking of thee now.

I'm thinking on the day, mother,
When, at thy tender side,
You watch'd the dawning of my youth,
And kiss'd me in your pride;
Then brightly was my heart lit up
With hopes of future joy,
While your bright fancy honors wove
To deck thy darling boy.

I'm thinking of the day, mother,
When, with such anxious care,
You lifted up your heart to Heaven—
Your hope, your trust was there:
Fond memory brings thy parting words,
While tears roll'd down your cheek;
Thy long, last, loving look told more
Than ever words could speak.

I'm far away from thee, mother;
No friend is near me now,
To soothe me with a tender word
Or cool my burning brow;
The dearest ties affection wove
Are all now torn from me;
They left me when the trouble came:
They did not love like thee.

I'm lonely and forsaken now;
Unpitied and unblest;
Yet still I would not have thee know
How sorely I'm distress'd.
I know you would not chide, mother,
You would not give me blame;
But soothe me with your tender words,
And bid me hope again.

I would not have thee know, mother,
How brightest hopes decay;
The tempter with his baleful cup
Has dashed them all away;
And shame has left its venom sting,
To rack with anguish wild—
Yet, still I would not have thee know
The sorrows of thy child.

Oh! I have wander'd far, mother,
Since I deserted thee,
And left thy trusting heart to break,
Beyond the deep blue sea.
Oh! mother, still I love thee well,
And long to hear thee speak,
And feel again thy balmy breath,
Upon my care-worn cheek.

But, ah! there is a thought, mother,
Pervades my beating breast,
That thy freed spirit may have flown
To its eternal rest;
And while I wipe the tears away,
There whispers in my ear
A voice, that speaks of heaven and thee,
And bids me seek thee there.

HOUSEKEEPERS' DEPARTMENT.

Chicken Panada.—Skin a fowl; cut it in pieces, leaving the breast whole; boil it in three pints of water till perfectly tender, pick off all the meat and pound it finely in a mortar, and mix it with the liquor it was boiled in; rub it through a sieve, and season it with salt.

Soup for an Invalid.—Cut in small pieces one pound of beef or mutton, or part of both; boil it gently in two quarts of water, take off the scum, and when reduced to a pint strain it. Season with a little salt, and take a teacupful at a time.

Tomato Catsup.—To one gallon of skinned tomatoes add four table-spoonfuls of salt; four ditto of black pepper, ground fine; half a teaspoontul of allspice, ground fine; three tablespoonfuls of mustard; eight pods of red pepper. Simmer it slowly in sharp vinegar, in a pewter vessel, three or four hours; then strain it through a wire seive, and bottle it up. When cold, seal up the corks, and it will last for years.

Fried Potatoes.—Pare and cut the potatoes in thin slices over night; let them stand in cold water. In the morning shake them in a dry towel till perfectly drained. Then drop them into very hot fat, enough to float them. (The fat from beef suet is the best.) Shake and turn them till brown, keeping them very hot. Dip out with a skimmer and salt them a little. If properly done they will be crisp and delicious.

"Peculiars," or Graham Puffs.—To one pint of graham flour add one pint of milk and one egg. Stir in the flour slowly, till it becomes a smooth (not thick) batter. Use no soda nor yeast. Bake immediately. The best pans are of cast iron, with twelve sockets, which must be first heated, then greased, filled and instantly returned to the oven. If new, the pans should be first scoured with soap and sand, then greased and heated, and re-washed. Puffs may also be made without the egg, with milk and water, or all water. They may also be made of rye flour or corn meal. The corn meal requires an egg. This recipe is sufficient for twenty-four puffs. Graham flour, from which the puffs are made, is more healthy for daily use than bolted flour; because nearly all the hull or bran is separated from the latter. Bolted flour is deprived of the silica, or silex contained in the bran, and which is given by the Almighty for the support and nourishment of our bones and teeth. Hence Americans are troubled with decayed teeth, and often with their total loss, more than Europeans; because the former universally eat such finely bolted flour, whether of wheat or rye.

Delicious Breakfast Cake.—One quart of sweet milk, two eggs, a small teaspoonful of salt, and one pint of sifted corn meal. No more nor less. Bake forty minutes in a quick oven. It will take an hour if baked in a slow oven.

Soda Biscuits.—One pound of flour, half a pound of pounded loaf sugar, one quarter of a pound of fresh butter, two eggs, one small teaspoonful of carbonate of soda. Put the flour (which should be perfectly dry) into a basin; rub in the butter, add the sugar, and mix these ingredients well together. Whisk the eggs, stir them into the mixture and beat it well, until everything is well incorporated. Quickly stir in the soda, roll the paste out until it is about half an inch thick, cut into small round cakes with a tin cutter, and bake them for ten or eighteen minutes in a rather brisk oven. After the soda is added, great expedition is necessary in rolling out the paste, and in putting the biscuits immediately into the oven, or they will be heavy.

An Excellent Marmalade is made by boiling sweet apples alone in cider made of sweet apples, and boiled down so as to be very rich. The sauce is in this case strained warm though a very coarse seive or riddle, and boiled again a little; or may be put into deep dishes, and set into the oven after the bread is drawn.

Scalded Ginger Cake.—Put one pint of molasses and two spoonfuls of butter in a pan, heat to boiling, then pour it on to one quart of flour. Stir it well, and when cool add two eggs well beaten, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in two large spoonfuls of brandy, and one of ginger. Add enough flour to make it thick enough to roll; work it out thin, and bake in square tins.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 23, 1867.]

Whereas, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district: North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registartion will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation: *

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes, given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
